Such a policy "certainly would, meet with armed resistance on the part of any power capable of retaliation, "Mr. Moore declared.

NORMAL QUOTAS

Attempts to apply the theory of normal quotas said Mr. Moore, was equally futile, since the shipment of normal amounts would imply a duty or pledge to give such shipments special protection. BUILDINGPOWERFUL AIR FORCE

NAVAL PARLEY RIFT FRENCH FEARS

(SPECIAL TO "TELEGRAPH")

(By Telegraph. Copyright Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1804. Received, Feb. 4, 8 a.m.) Berlin, Feb. 3.

The German press to-night expressed anxiety over the reported British defence proposals. But meanwhile Germany is forging ahead with her re-armament programme.

Inquiries indicate that Germany, before the end of the present year, will probably have completed the organisation of thirty-six infantry divisions. It was announced by the Ghancellor, Adolf Hitler, on January 5, 1935, that these would comprise over half a million regular troops, while the total of trained or partly trained soldiers which the country would be able to put into the field will total at least another 1,600,000.

It is generally believed that the total of Germany's front line aircraft, actually embodied in the new Air Force, does not at present exceed 1,000; but it is highly probable that a total of 2,000 first line machines may soon be reached. Aircraft factories are being rapidly developed, moreover, with a view to attaining eventually a potential production of about 4,000 machines annually .- Reuter Special.

It is reported that jurists have discovered that Germany is not bound by this agreement to limit the size of her warships, and as the conference is now dealing with qualitative limitation, Great Britain favours Germany's admission at a suitable stage. It is understood that France strongly opposes Germany's participation.

. AMERICAN STAND

At the same time a struggle between France and the United States is proceeding over the size of battleships. This, too, darkens the prospect of a qualitative limitation

It is understood the United States has conceded to Britain's request that no more big cruisers are to be built on the understanding that battleships tonnage shall be fixed at a figure not above 35,000 tons. France wants even smaller ships; she insists on a limit of 27,000 tons for battleships. Both these issues are being tackled in private discussions. Meanwhile, . sub-committees have agreed in principle to the American proposal to extend the life of battleships to twenty-six years.-Renter.

London, Feb. 3. To-day's reduction of the Nether-

Since the end of September, when the rate stood as high as six per cent., the situation has improved steadily and with one minor set-back the bank has regained over 133,000,000 guilders of the 137,000,000 guilders lost during the previous six months.

Nevertheless, despite the improvement of the monetary situation, Holland still remains embarrassed b an unfavourable budget and faces an adverse trade position, which many in high circles believe will eventually force the country to abandon its keen adherence to the gold standard.

On the other hand, the pro-Gold Bloc people of Holland point to the slight signs of recovery in the Gold Bloe countries, which is principally due to the narrowing down of the gap in prices between currencies of Gold Bloc countries and countries which devalued,-Renter.

True Londoner

Mr. Beerbohm, who was born within the sound of Bow Bells, left London in 1910 and revisits England at intervals of two or three years.

"London," he complained in his broadcast, "has been cosmopolitanised, democratised, commorcialised, mechanised, standardised, vulgarised so extensively that one's pride in showing it to a foreigner is changed to a whole; some humility."

He also criticised our "appallingly bleak yet garish tenements," which he described as "monstrosities" which looked like "improper workhouses."

"When one thinks," he said, "of the significant houses, the old habitable homes, that were demolished to make way for them, then one's heart sickens and one's tengue curses the age into which one has survived."

Do your children Catch cold easily? Do their colds hans on?

> Then follow this tested Plan for fewer and shorter colds . . . less danger and expense from colds

To increase resistance to colds . . .

See that your children eat simple, nourishing food, drink lots of water, and get plenty of sleep. Encourage them to play out-of-doors as much as possible.

2 To nip threatening colds in the bud...

Watch your children carefully after they have been exposed to conditions apt to cause a cold. Then, at the first sniffle or sneeze, do this: put a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril. This remarkable liquid aids and gently stimulates Nature to throw off the threatening cold before it can get beyond the nose and upper throat - where most colds start. Used in time, Va-tro-nol prevents many colds entirely. Va-tro-nol also brings remarkable relief for head-colds and nasal catarrh.

To relieve the few colds that do develop

Sometimes, of course, a cold strikes without warning or slips by even the best defences. Then, at bedtime, rub the little throat and chest with Vicks VapoRub. All night long, this pleasant ointment brings relief in two direct ways at once. It 'penetrates - direct through the skin-"drawing out" the tightness and pain. At the same time, it vaporises and its healing vapours are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages. By morning, almost always, the worst of the cold is over.

These three simple rules make up the Vicks Plan for better Control of Colds. The Plan has thoroughly proved its value to children. In clinical tests among 2218 school-children, those who followed the Plan were absent from school with colds only one-fourth as many days as those who did not follow the Plan. They had fewer colds and shorter colds, and their mothers had far less worry and expense from colds. You will find the Plan fully described in each Vicks package. Let your family, adults as well as children, share its benefits from now on.

"He Was Her Man"

"He was Her Man", a new Warner Bros., production with a unique love theme, is scheduled to be the next change at the Queen's Theatre, with James Cagney and Joan Blondell in the stellar roles. The picture is said to be a highly dramatic story of a thoroughly unscrupulous underworld character who has a way with women and takes his love where he finds it. The role is enacted by James Cagney with Miss Blondell playing the part of a woman of the streets who is about to put her past behind her and marry a Portuguese fisherman when she becomes infatuated with this rogue with a magnetic personality. Cagney, the arch villain, is about to double cross the girl when members | Knowlden and Ferdinand Gottschalk of the gang on whom he has squealled eatch up with him and he does the one decent act of his life by going to his death without involving her. Victor Jory, has the role of the fisherman, while others in the cast include Frank Craven, Russell Hopton, Raife Harold, Sarah Padden, John Qualen, George Chandler and Samuel, E. Hines. The picture is set for the mo t part in the picturesque background of an old Pacific Coast near Monterey where Cagney is hiding out. The picture is based on an original story by Robert Lord and dramatised write his own stories, his own dialogue for the screen by Tom Buckingham and Niven Busch. Lloyd Bacon di-

"Bright Lights" . .

Joe E. Brown, the funnel-mouthed comedian, comes to the Star Theatre to-day in what is heralded as his most uproarious comedy romance. In addition to Joe's laugh-provoking stunts, there are four lively songs, for the picture is one of back stage life and the singing comes in naturally. Joe E., himself, sings and dances and does acrobatic stunts with the famous Maxellos. Scores of pretty chorus and dancing girls appear in the theatrical sequences but "Bright Lights" is neither a musical nor a furce, but a stirring romantic comedy. The story is by Lois Leeson and concerns Joe E.'s quick jump from a burlesque comedy troupe to a big Broadway actor, playing with a madcap heiress, Patricia Ellis, out for adventure. His wife and partner in the burlesque show, Ann Dvorak, is out of it and goes back to small time. Joe's head swells which causes many complications which lead to a unique and amazing climax. Brown himself Secretary, started his theatrical life as a comedian in a burlesque show, and the burlesque sequences are made the more natural by the use of an entire troupe which was playing in Les Angeles when "Bright Lights" was being filmed. The cast include William Gargan, Joseph Cawthorn, Henry O'Neill, Arthur Treacher, Gordon Westcott, Joseph Crehan and William Demarest. Busby Berkeley directed,

Hollywood's most celebrated feud continues apace. Fredric March' and Charles Laughton, the famous adversaries of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," are opposing each other again in Darryl Zanuck's 20th Century pro-duction of "Les Miserables," which is duction of "Les Miscrables," which is now showing at the King's Thentre. But whereas in "The Barretts" the feud was of a psychological order, with Laughton as the domineering father opposing March's courtship of Norma Shearer, in W. P. Lipscomb's Tel. 20051.

March is seen in "Les Miscrables" as Jean Valjean, who spends five years on a French prison ship for stealing a load of bread and then becomes a fugitive from justice by violating his parole; while Laughton is cast as Javert, the fanatical detective, who dogs his trail, although he leads an honest and increasingly prosperous life. YORK' STOCK EXCHANGE

MARKET UPWARD YESTERDAY

New York, Feb. 3.

Swan, Culbertson and Fritz Dow Jones Summary of yesterday's market: The market to-day was irregularly higher, led by electrical equipment issues on reports of excellent retail sales. Copper sharen accompanied the upward movement.
The market opened irregular and marked time until the Supreme Court went into recess. Wall Street ignored Gold shipments from the United States. Steels were upward on the Iron & Steel Institute's estimate of operations at 50 per cent. capacity, compared with 49.4 per cent, the previous week. General motor and Chrysler securities were upward on reports that higher dividends are forthcoming. Oils are firm, whilst railroad issues showed some net gains.
Farm equipment and mail order stocks were sharply higher. Curb stocks were upward. The market for bonds was firm. was firm.

Culbertson & Fritz Well Street Journal comment:—"In spite of the current business irregularities, the basic undertone is strong. The Presidential election in November is beginning to assume importance as a market factor. Investment trusts are now switching with greater attention to a possible decided market setback. Brokers believe that too much stress has been placed by the market on the outcome of the T.V.A. decision. Traders say that if Gold starts to be exported, it may cause some selling in stocks. Irregularity is probable before moon to-day, with many orders on both sides of the market."

S. C. & F. New York office cables: Stocks: Securities continue in good Street Journal comment:- "In spite of last year.

Cotton: The proposed weekly sales of 25,000 bales of loan cotton and talks of inflation were the principal features of the market to-day. The world consumption of American cotton during December amounted to 1,043,-OCO Calen.

Wheat: Some traders believe that a 3 to 4-cent decline in prices is necessary to improve the demand for flour. The exportable surplus from the Argentine is estimated at 157,-000,000 to 174,000,000 bushels, which indicates a heavy carry-over. The visible supply has decreased by 1,514,000 bushels. The visible supply of Canadian wheat shows a decrease of 2,229,000 bushels. The visible supply of corn has decreased by 422,000 bushels.

Rubber: The primary markets are steady, with little offerings in evidence. The action of the Sterling, exchange and inflation buying caused prices to advance. It is estimated that the world stocks of rubber in 1935 decreased by over 100,: 000 tons. Malayan exports in January totalled 39,111 tons. The stock of rubber in Britain during the part peak has increased by 325 tons. past week has increased by 325 tons.

Womanly Charm And How To Obtain It.

That clusive quality known as 'charm' in woman is the counterpart of virility in man. With it comparatively plain features become alive with the subtle appeal that wins hearts; without it even beauty falls to attract. Health depends upon the condition of the blood, and an abundant supply of rich, pure, red blood is the secret of this womanly charm, for if a woman's blood is weak, watery and impure, then she will be dull, listless and unattractive.

Don't allow annemia to undermine your health and strength, but build up your blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are renowned for their ability to create rich blood in abundance, and for this reason are of special value to women. With the good health derived from taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills women rapidly Equally good for both sexes, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are of the greatest help in all allments which have blood impoverishment as their basic cause, such as indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous debility, rheuma-tism, sciatica, lumbago, pains in the back and limbs, women's ailments, and after malaria and other weaken-

I know the first V.C. because he was an Ulsterman. But our Irish heroes are not as well known as they ought to be. And who was the first V.C.?

His name was Charles David Lucas. He was born at Donegal; Co. Armagh, on February 19, 1934. The Lucas family seat was Castle Shane.

Lucas was a lad of eighteen when he won the Victoria Gross, which had been instituted by Queen Victoria, and which became known as "the ponn'orth of bronze."

HE served in H.M.S. Hecla in the Crimean war, the most wanton and witless war in our annals.

The Hecla attacked the fortress of Bomarsund, in the Gulf of Bothnia, which was armed with eighty guns. The range was 500 yards. Almost every Russian shot told.

Lucas picked up a live shell and hurled it into the sea, where it burst with a terrific roar. Queen Victoria herself gave him the Victoria Cross. He subsequently became an admiral.

I met Admiral Lucas at a dinarchbishops in the thin red ner of the Ulster Association in Union will not be there. They sea-dog, with a ragged red in the war they will have evoked he was brave. I could not persuade him to talk about his famous feat.

I sometimes think we ought to have a moral Victoria Cross for moral courage, for moral courage is the sort of courage we need in times of peace—the courage to defend our soldiers and sailors and our youth from wickedly unnecessary wars like the Crimean war, which was caused by the cowardice of our statesmen (and crowned by their incompotence) against their own better judgment.

It was a war entered into wantonly and waged without foresight, a monument of damnable mismanagement redeemed a little by the greatest heroine of our race, Florence Nightin-

As the author remarks, the French Revolution and D'Holbach's own preference for anonymity long made it difficult to form a working estimate of the place in history of this remarkable man; and the present work attempts, to sort out of the truth from the legend and show what he actually did and wrote.

The volume consists of two parts. In the first, an attempt is made to critically analysed in the light of their historical setting, in order the better to bring out the significance of his contribution to the stream of events and ideas that issued in the times and at present; French Revolution. The book reveals student, one who by careful research and painstaking effort has produced through states not participating in a volume of consuming interest.

Chicago.

The Little man was the biggest man in all golf for 1935. As the "old guard," except for Mrs. Glenna Collet Varo of Philadephia, retreated before the deadly fire of youth in a season of upsets and surprises, Lowson Little, Jr., of San great achievements of Bobby Jones. Genred with amateur stamina. targets and a putting touch that never seemed to miss, the Colossus from California became the first man in the royal and ancient game to score two succesive doubles in amateur compétition in England and

At the end of his astonishing march, he had compiled a record winning streak of 31 triumphs in cham-pionship match play. In his only try at fire-for-all competition, he led the American forces in the British Open by tying for fourth place at 289, or six shots behind the victor, Altred Perry of England.

DAZZLING EXHIBITIONS

Little finshed his greatest golf in the United States Amateur at Cleveland with dazzling exhibitions. How he came from behind to defeat young Rufus King, John Goodman and Walter Emery with golf that made birdies and eagles look simple was nothing short of sensational, Many of those who watched his march to his second British amateur crown at St. Anne's called him the equal of the great Jones.

The year in golf was littered with surprises but the biggest one was turned in by Sam Parks, Jr., of Pittsburgh in his national open conquest at treacherous Oakmont. As the heavy favourites cursed the lightning fast greens and kept chasing Jimmy Thomson, the long distance seige gun and front runner from Long Beach, Ca., Parks slipped in with finishing rounds of 78-76 for a final 72-hole (Continued on Page 7.)

At the moment interest is centred on the Winter Olympic meeting which starts this week. In the figure skating events Great Britain will be represented by four women (with two reserves), four men, and two pairs.

SKILL THE ONLY TEST

There is a disposition among those who disapprove of these exhibitions of youthful prowess to blame the National Skating Association. But it is not the governing body's responsibility to consider the moral effect prominence and publicity on children. That is a matter for parents. It is the business of the N.S.A., to send abroad Britain's best available skators, be they 6 or 60. The success of British skaters in the last few years has fully justified the risk the N.S.A. took in backing the nerves of youngsters by disregarding age and selecting on the test of skill alone.

The women chosen to represent Britain are Cecilla College, Mollie Phillips, Gwenneth Butler, and Belita Jepson-Turner, with Min Macklin and Pamela Prior as reserves. It is unfortunate that Megan Taylor, three times British champion, who did best for us at Lake Placid in winning seventh place, is still insufficiently recovered to compete.

Cecilia College, three times runnerup to Megan Taylor and now British One of the teams, who will represent Britain for the last Olympic at champion, was first selected to ropresent Germany in the Bobsleigh at the the tender age of 11, and she finished Winter Olympiad at Garmisch-Par- eighth. Our number two, Mollie Phillips, though under twenty-five, is a "veteran" by comparison. She also represented Britain in the last Olympiad, in which she was ninth after being fifth in that year's British championanip. In the last two British titles she has finished third, and in 1934 she won ninth place in the European championship,

"There was an Interesting incident in Baturday's Lill.C. v K.C.C. Senior league match which later aroused a streat dest of controversy on cricket law among the K.C.O. players. Mackay was batting on Baturday and reached forward for a ball which he missed. The wicket-kerper whipped off the balls but did not appeal. Mackay regained his revease and Madar then came up to the wicket from first silp, gauged where he thought Mackay's foot was when the wicket was broken and then appealed to the umpire who gave Mackay out. The question is after what lapse of time can, or cannot, an appeal he made! Furthermore, in this rave, as Mackay dud regulered for a me "out" decision given? It-is argued that if with the last ball of an over before lunch a bataman is any caught behind the wicket and no appeal is made, an appeal can be made upon resumption of the game to long as it is made hefore delivery of the next ball. It is also contended that in the atrictest sense of the laws a bataman can be bobwled yet still continue to bat if no annual to the umpire has been made."

LOG CABIN TRAINING FOR "BOMBER" |OE LOUIS

PREPARING FOR SCHMELING

WIFE TO SHARE CONDITIONS

Mooschead Lake, Me. A log cabin "just for two" is to be built in this North Woods sporting paradise for Joe Louis and his bride.

Detroit's Brown Bomber is coming to Moosehend to train for what some consider his first big test, his expected outdoor meeting in New York next June with Max Schmeling of Germany, former world heavyweight champion.

"Build Joe and his wife the best manager, instructed Charlio Miler, as he has to leave for Shanghai beveteran Maine trainer and guide, at a conference just before the Louis-Uzeudun fight.

"Put it where Joe'll be safe from England's busybodies," Roxborough added, "and have it ready by May. And remember—have two good saddle horses on hand so Joe and 'The Missus' can go riding along Moosehead's trails."

LOCATION ALREADY CHOSEN

Miller, who trained Primo Carnera for his fight with Max Baer and conditioned Gene Tunney for his second fight with Jack Dempsey, will have the cabin ready in time. He has picked a location already.

Miller's four camps are grouped in woods near Moosehend's share about three miles from the town of Greenville. Joe's cabin will be about n mile distant. "Louis wants quiet and seclusion, and he'll have it," said Miller. "There won't be any public workouts, and no intruders. Visiting newspapermen will live here with me, and I know I can bank on them to cooperate in giving Joe all the privacy he wants."

"Just what sort of daily training schedule will you put Louis through? Miller was asked.

With Italy preparing for possible war in the Mediterranean, heavy concentration of Italian warships and aeroplanes in the Dodecanese islands, off the Turkish coast, have been reliably reported in Rome. At the same time, it is reported that between 10,000 and 15,000 Italian naval officers and specialists are being mobilized. The naval and air concentrations in the Dodecanese islands, shown in the map, place a powerful Italian striking force in a position that threatens the listands, shown in the map, place a powerful Italian striking force in a position that threatens the British fleet mobilized at Alexandria, Egypt, and gives Italy a war force close to the Suez canal.

Berlin, Feb. 3. The German press to-night expressed anxiety over the reported British defence proposals. But meanwhile Germany is forging ahead with her re-armament programme.

Inquiries indicate that Germany, before the end of the present year, will probably have completed the organisation of thirty-six infantry divisions. It was announced by the Chancellor, Adolf Hitler, on January 5, 1935, that these would comprise over half a million regular troops, while the total of trained or partly trained soldiers which the country would be able to put into the field will total at least another 1,600,000.

It is generally believed that the total of Germany's frontline aircraft, actually embodied in the new Air Force, does not at present exceed 1,000; but it is highly probable that a total of 2,000 first line machines may soon be reached: Aircraft factories are being rapidly developed, moreover, with a view to attaining eventually a potential production of about 4,000 machines annually.—Reuter Special.

AMERICAN STAND

agreement. It is understood the United States has conceded to Britain's request that no more big cruisers are to be built, on the understanding that battleships' tonnage shall be fixed at a figure not above 35,000 tons. France wants even smaller ships; she insists on limit of 27,000 tons for battleships. Both these issues are being tackled in private discussions. Meanwhile, sub-committees have agreed in principle to the American proposal to extend the life of battleships to twenty-six years .- Reuter.

BETHLEHEM STAR: NEW THEORY

STRONOMERS are again debating the riddle of the Star of Bethlehem.

Study of a new star that appeared a year ago-shortly before last Christmas—is leading to the theory among astronomers that the brilliant orb in the skies that the Magi followed on the eve of the first Christmas might well have been also a nova, or new star, just created, similar to that discovered last December.

That, too, appeared auddenly in the skies and rapidly grew and grew until in a few weeks it was a hundred times was bright as when It was first noticed.

 Comet Theory ... Novae after a period of time lose their brightness again and fade out as "sky lights." A number of such outbursts have been noted over a very long period of time.

The reality of the Star of Bethlehem is not questioned by these debaters.

One famous astronomer man gested that a feasible explanation Gives But, in reply to this, it is pointed out that the Magi would be men who had great knowledge of the skies and would know the difference between a comet and the strange light which they followed.

Scientists' Belief Astrologers of those days knew about comets, and, as others were recorded by them, had a new comet been sighted at the time it must have been recorded.

Mr. Beerbohm, who was born within the sound of Bow Bells, left London in 1910 and revisits England at intervals- of two or three years.

"London," he complained in his broadcast, "has been cosmopolitanised, democratised, commercialised, mechanised, standardised. vulgarised so extensively that one's pride in showing it to a foreigner is changed to a wholesome humility."

He also criticised our "appallingly bleak yet garish tenements," which he described as "monstrosities" which looked like "improper workhouses."

"When one thinks," he said, "of the significant houses, the old. habitable homes, that were demolished to make way for them, then one's heart sickens and one's tongue curses the age into which one has survived."

To increase résistance to colds . . .

See that your children eat simple, nourishing food, drink lots of water, and get plenty of sleep. Encourage them to play out-of-doors as much as possible.

29 To nip threatening colds in the bud . . .

Watch your children carefully after they have been exposed to conditions apt to cause a cold. Then, at the first sniffle or sneeze, do this: put a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril. This remarkable liquid aids and gently stimulates Nature to throw off the. threatening cold before it can get beyond the nose and upper, throat-where most colds start. Used in time, Va-tro-nol prevents many colds entirely. Va-tro-nol also brings remarkable relief for head-colds and nasal cotarrh.

To relieve the few colds that do develop

Sometimes, of course, a cold strikes without warning or slips by even the best defences. Then, at bedtime, rub the little throat and chest with Vicks VapoRub. All night long. this pleasant ointment brings relief in two direct ways at once: It penelrates - direct through the skin-"drawing out" the tightness and pain. At the same time, it vaporises and Its healing vapours are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages. By morning, almost always, the worst of the cold is over.

These three simple rules make up the Vicks Plan for better Control of Colds. The Plan has thoroughly proved its value to children. In clinical tests among 2218 school-children. those who followed the Plan were absent from school with colds only one-fourth as many days as those who did not follow the Plan. They had fewer colds and shorter colds, and their mothers had far less worry and expense from colds. You will find the Plan fully described in each Vicks package. Let your family, adults as well as children, share its benefits from now on.

It almost broke little Jean Gunn's heart when she had to bit Jack Benny for a scene from "It's in the Air," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy drama, Theatre, but she found a way to leasen the pain in her heart. Before she had been keeping her fingers crossed so that what she said didn't really count! Benny's second starring vehicle shows him in the characterisation of a Broadway "chiseller," who is only one step shead of the law. By accident he becomes a national hero instead of a "number" through a stratosphere flight that he has been forced into by his estranged wife. The wife is portrayed by Una Morked, who, incidentally, for the first Admiral the Hon. Stanhope Hawke, the expenditure on band parts and dramatic rather than a comedy role. The blazing ruins of the county prison form a barricade for the marshal's operatives, who are outnumbered two to one. The blonds charmer of "The Informer", Margot Grahame, is a prominent figure in "The Arizonian," involved in a romance with the peace officer and his brother. Preston Foster and Louis Calhern are also among the cast.

"Bright Lights" Joe E. Brown, the funnel-mouthed comedian, comes to the Star Theatre to-day in what is heralded as his most upronrious comedy romance. In addition to Joe's laugh-provoking stunts, there are four lively songs, for the picture is one of back stage life and the singing comes in naturally. Joe E., himself, sings and dances and does acrobatic stunts with the famous Maxellos. Scores of protty chorus and dancing girls appear in the theatrical sequences but "Bright Lights" is neither a musical nor a force, but a stirring romantic comedy. The story is by Lois Leeson and concerns Joe E.'s quick jump from a burlesque comedy troupe to a big Broadway actor, playing with a madcap heiress. Patricia Ellis, out for adventure. His wife and partner in the burlesque show, Ann Dvorak, is out of it and goes back to small time.

Jog's head swells which causes many complications which lead to a unique and amazing climax. Brown himself started his theatrical life as a comedian in a burlesque show, and the burlesque sequences are made the more natural by the use of an entire troupe which was playing in Los Angeles when "Bright Lights" was being filmed. The cast include William Gargan, Joseph Cawthorn, Honry O'Neill, Arthur Treaches, Gordon Westcott, Joseph Crehan and William Demarest. Busby Berkeley directed. "Les Miscrables"

Hollywood's most celebrated feud continues apace. Fredric March and Charles Laughton, the famous adversaries of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," are opposing each other again in Darryl Zanuck's 20th Century, production of "Les Miserables," which is now showing at the King's Theatre. But whoreas in "The Barretts" the fend wan of a psychological order, with Laughton as the domineering father opposing March's courtship of Norma Shearer, in W. P. Lipscomb's screen adaptation of the Victor Hugo classic the enmity is of a more open and pronounced nature. March is seen in "Les Miserablea" as Jean Valledn, who spends five years on a French prison ship for stealing a loaf

New York, Feb. 3.

Swan, Culbertson and Fritz Dow Jones Summary of yesterday's market: The market to-day was irregularly higher, led by electrical equipment issues on reports of excellent retail sales. Copper shares accompanied the upward movement. The market opened irregular and marked time until the Supreme Court went into recess. Wall Street ignored Gold shipments from the United States. Steels were upward on tho Iron & Steel Institute's estimate. of operations at 50 per cent, capacity, vious week. General motor and evidence. The action of Swan, Culbertson & Fritz Wall Street Journal comment:- "In spite of the current business irregularities, the baric undertone is strong. The Presidential election in November is beginning to assume importance as a market factor. Investment trusts are now switching with greater attention to a possible decided market setback. Brokers believe that too much stress has been placed by the market on the outcome of the T.V.A. decision.

Chicago. The Little man was the biggest man in all golf for 1935. As the "old guard," except for Mrs. Glenna Collet Vare of Philadephia, retreated before the deadly fire of youth in a season of upsets and surprises, Lawson Little, Jr., of San Francisco picked up where he left off in 1934, and with superb golfing performances he challenged even the great achievements of Bobby Jones. Genred with amateur, stamina, tromendous drives that boomed targets and a putting touch that never seemed to miss, the Colossus from California, became the first man in the royal and uncient game to score two succestve doubles in ama-

DAZZLING EXHIBITIONS

Little flashed his greatest golf in the United States Amateur at Cleveland with dazzling exhibitions. How he came from behind to defeat young Rufus King, John Goodman and Walter Emery with golf that made birdies and eagles look simple was nothing short of sensational. Many of those who watched his march to his second British amateur crown at St. Anne's called him the equal of the great Jones. The year in golf was littered with surprises but the biggest one was turned in by Sam Parks, Jr., of Pittsburgh in his national open conquest at treacherous Oakmont. As the heavy favourites cursed the lightning fast greens and kept chasing Jimmy Thomson, the long distance selge gun and front runner from Long Beach, Ca., Parks slipped in with finishing rounds of 73-76 for a final 72-hole

There is a disposition among those who disapprove of these exhibitions of youthful prowess to blame the National Skating Association. But it is not the governing body's responsibility to consider the moral effect of prominence and publicity on children. That is a matter for parents. It is the business of the N.S.A. to send abroad Britain's .. best available skaters, be they 6 or 60. The success of British skaters in the last few years has fully justified the risk the N.S.A. took in backing the nerves of youngsters by disregarding-age and selecting on the test of skill alone.

The women chosen to represent Britain are Cecilia College, Mollie Phillips, Gwenneth Butler, and Belita -Jepson-Turner, with Min Macklin and Pamela Prior as reserves. had not had time to settle down. They did very much better on their own ground against Craigengower and were only beaten after a very sporting declaration at 165 for seven wickets down. Both Fung and B. K. Ng afforded E. L. Gosano, who had a nice and hard hit ninety, a good deal of assistance in run getting though the batting on the whole is not, 1 think, too strong.

Craigengower bowlers seem rather out of form just now, as neither Omar, A. T. Lee, nor Souza could muster more than one wicket apiece, and F. Zimmern with two for fifteen was the most successful bowler on

That they won the match Craigengower can thank Ernie Zimmern (will someone send me a family tree-or grove-of the Zimmern clan?) who played a characteristic knock for eighty-two while Rapley at last came off with a fifty-three. The remainder scrambled for the runs and got them. Gosuno seems to be settling down a bit and the Varsity should have good games with one or two of the other

JUNIOR DIVISION

I am afraid I cannot say as much for the Varsity second who are terribly weak in batting-and, I fancy, in bowling. Craigengower second at home made 191 for three and put them all out for forty-three, four men being run out. G. A. Lee (another family tree pleasel) got ninety-one and Dr. Lam-as usual-came off, helping himself to 56 not out and tuking three for nineteen.

The I.R.C., I am told, dropped a lot of catches when they let K.C.C. draw with them. They took no chances about the game and went on to 171 for four after losing their first all did well and I rather think the Indian first eleven would do well to promote one or two of these second team batsmen to stiffen what is at

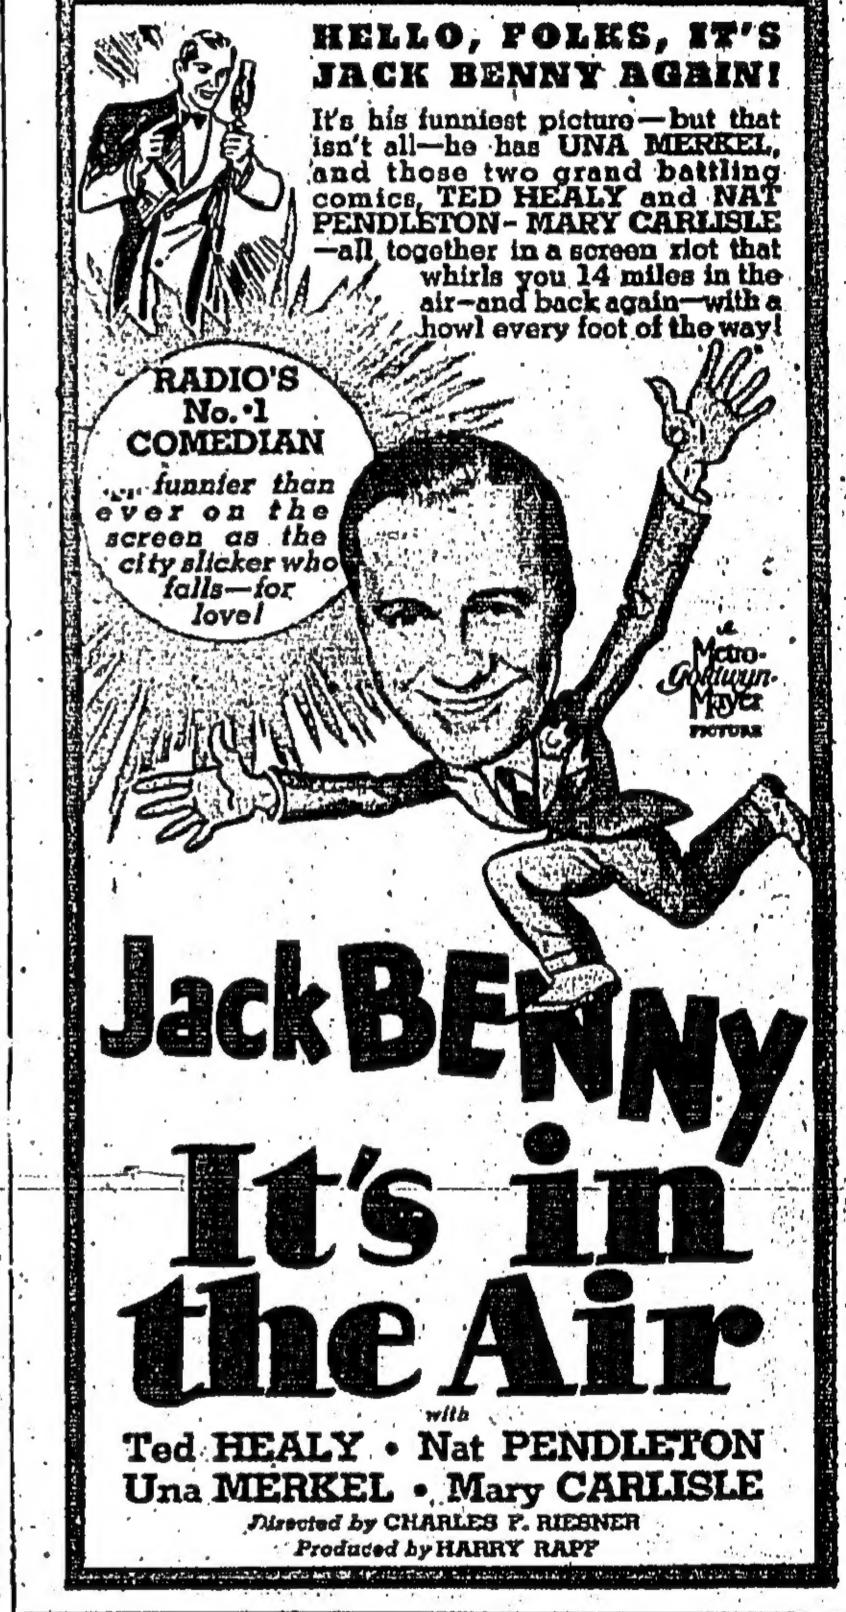

The K.C.C. were not convincing, though George Lee, Lawrence, Baldwin (33) and W. L. Mackenzie all did their bit to save the game, as did Dand and Overy who put on five runs down. A gallant performance, however it was done.

With Italy preparing for possible war in the Mediterranean, heavy concentration of Italian warships and aeroplanes in the Dodecanese islands, off the Turkish coast, have been reliably reported in Rome. At the same time, it is reported that between 10,000 and 15,000 Italian naval officers and specialists are being medilized. The naval and air concentrations in the Dodecanese islands, shown in the map, place a powerful Italian striking force in a position that threatens the British fleet mobilized at Alexandria, Egypt, and gives Italy a war force close to the Sucz canal.

PEIPING TRUNK MURDER?

DISMEMBERED BODY DISCOVERED

SUSPECT WENT MUKDEN

Peiping, Feb. 4.

A ghastly trunk murder has been discovered by the station authorities. Late last night workmen became aware of an unpleasant odour which apparently came from two trunks, in the baggage room. When they were opened it was found that they contained the dismembered body of a youth of about twenty-two years of

On the night of February 1 a Chinese male passenger, of about 33 Lo, Messra, M. W. Lo, P. M. Hodgson, years of age, well-dressed and wellspoken, attempted to take the trunks with him on the Mukden express. However, they were over-weight and he was forced to leave them behind in the luggage room.

The first trunk opened was found to contain the severed head and torso of the youth. The other held the arms and legs. The victim of what police are convinced is a murder, is thought to have been a student.—Reuter. SOLDIER TAKES Apparently the door was locked, and the defendant was unable to open it, so he went' to the Peak Hotel garage and was seen to get into private car No. 2852, and start it. He apparently did not know into the wall several times. The constable tried to get him to leave the car, and then went to the Police Station and informed him (Inspector McEwen) of what was happening. He went to the garage and defendant was still there in the car. He had the car_moving, but was unable to get i out of the place. There were marks on the wall and on the bumper of the car. The driving only consisted of defendant having driven the car a few yards against the wall.

Mr. Schofield fixed hearing of the case for 11.30 a.m. on Saturday, February 8. The defendant was remanded in military custody.

BARON D'HOLBACH

"Baron D'Holbach: A Prelude to the French Revolution," by W. H. Wickwar, M.A. (George Allen & Unwin, Ltd., London: 7s. 6d.) is a most interesting contribution to the literature on one of the earliest and greatest exponents of utilitarianism and of dogmatic atheism and materinlism. As the author remarks, the French Revolution and D'Holbach's own preference for anonymity long made it difficult to form a working estimate of 'the place in history of this remarkable man; and the present work attempts, to sort out of the truth from the legend and show what he actually did and wrote. The volume consists of two parts. In the first, an attempt is made to reconstruct his life and trace his influence. In the second, his ideas are critically analysed in the light of their historical setting, in order the better to bring out the significance of his contribution to the stream of events and ideas that issued in the French Revolution. The book reveals the puthor, as a serious and able student, one who by careful research and painstaking effort has produced a volume of consuming interest.

"OUT FOR A MILLION"

"Out for a Million," by V. Krymov (George Allen & Unwin, Ltd., London: 7s. 6d.) is the first work by this long-established author to appear in English. It describes the development and adventures of a povertystricken student who swore to be even with his wealthy friends and make a million. A series of odd characters flit across the stage, worthy to rank with Sam Weller and Jorrocks. Not the least remarkable part of the work is the very distinctive description of the hero's childhood.

The book is a diorama of the littleknown world of the Old Believers some of whom were counted amongst the wealthiest merchant families of Russia. This is described for the first time in literature either Russian or foreign.
